

CONTENTS

Introduction.....	9
I. The influence of noble self-presentation on historical thought and historiography	17
1. Introduction	17
2. Models of behaviour.....	21
1. L. Iunius Brutus	21
2. P. Decius Mus	24
3. The patrician Claudii	26
3. Thinking differently	30
1. Modern approaches.....	30
2. Ancient paradigms.....	33
4. Heirs, aspirations and expectations	38
5. General claims.....	47
6. Significance	52
II. The traditions of the Fabii	57
1. Introduction	57
2. Q. Fabius Verrucosus, ‘the Delayer’.....	58
3. The Fabii Vibulani and the concord of the state.....	65
1. The Fabii Vibulani (485–479 BC)	65
2. The Fabii and the concord of the state.....	77
4. The battle of Cremera and the story of the sole survivor	81
5. The Fabii and the Sempronii	83
6. Elderly fathers and rash sons.....	84
7. Q. Fabius Maximus Verrucosus and Q. Fabius Maximus Rullianus.....	94
8. The piety of the Fabii	105
9. The Fabii and conspiracies against the state	110
10. Conclusion.....	112

III. The Fabii and the Gauls	115
1. Introduction	115
2. The sack of Rome.....	116
3. History and tradition.....	123
4. Athens and Rome	130
5. The Fabii and the Gauls	139
6. The Fabii and the consulship.....	153
7. Conclusions	159
Epilogue	163
Bibliography	165
Index	175