Inhibition of the Overproduction of Nitric Oxide in Septic Shock Using N ^G -Methyl-L-Arginine D. REES	1
Successful Administration of the NO Synthase Inhibitor 546C88 as a Delayed Continuous Infusion in a Baboon Model of Septic Shock G. SCHLAG †, H. REDL, H. GASSER, Z. KHAKPOUR, and J. DAVIES	23
Clinical Aspects of Nitric Oxide (NO [·]) Blockade with Pyridoxylated-Hemoglobin Polyoxyethylene Conjugate (PHP) R. G. KILBOURN and J. DEANGELO	45
Norepinephrine Versus L-NMMA in Hyperdynamic Septic Shock K. TRÄGER, K. M. RIEGER, B. ŠANTAK, and P. RADERMACHER	69
Roles for Induced Nitric Oxide in Endotoxic and Hemorrhagic Shock R. T. VILLAVICENCIO, B. G. HARBRECHT, and T. R. BILLIAR	93
Role of Nitric Oxide in the Regulation of Cardiovascular Performance: Clinical Implication for Sepsis and Congestive Heart Failure J. M. HARE	119
Inducible NOS and Other Novel Mediators of Inflammation in Brain Trauma P. M. KOCHANEK, E. H. SINZ, R. S. B. CLARK, C. E. DIXON, M. J. BELL, and D. W. MARION	145
Nitric Oxide and Leukocyte Adhesion: Experience with NO Inhibitors, NO Donors and iNOS-Deficient Mice M. J. HICKEY and P. KUBES	163
Cytokine Control of Nitric Oxide Production: Therapeutic Possibilities T. J. EVANS	187

Peroxynitrite: the Dark Side of Nitric Oxide – Effect of Mercaptoethylguanidine (MEG), a Combined Inhibitor of Inducible Nitric Oxide Synthase and Scavenger of Peroxynitrite in Shock, Inflammation, and Ischemia-Reperfusion Injury C. SZABÓ, T. CSONT, A. SZABÓ, B. ZINGARELLI, S. CUZZOCREA, A. L. SALZMAN, and G. J. SOUTHAN	203
Actions of Selective and Non-Selective Nitric Oxide Synthase Inhibitors on Multiple-Organ Microvascular Injury Provoked by Lipopolysaccharide B. J. R. WHITTLE and F. LÁSZLÓ	245
Inhibition of Nitric Oxide Synthases by the 4-Amino Analogue of Tetrahydrobiopterin E. R. WERNER, K. SCHMIDT, G. WERNER-FELMAYER, and B. MAYER . . .	261
Effects of Nitric Oxide Inhibitors and Hemoglobin in Sepsis S. R. FISCHER and D. L. TRABER	273
