

Table of Contents

- Acknowledgments VII
- Introduction..... 1
- Overview 1
- Part I Normative Reflections on the Economy 13
- Section I Multiple Discourses on the Economy 15
- 1. The Interconnection of Moral and Economic Theory 17
- I. The Moral Discourse on Economic Reality 17
- II. The Economic Discourse on Economic Reality 23
- Conclusion 24
- 2. Economics and Politics in the Architectonic of Hegel’s Thought.... 25
- I. The Rejection of the Rousseau-ian Direct Democracy..... 25
 - A. Hegel’s Analysis of the Enlightenment Period, Absolute Freedom, and the Moral Vision of the World..... 26
 - B. The Rousseau-ian Direct Democracy 28
- II. Rejection of Universal Suffrage..... 30
- III. Hegel's Own Solution 31
 - A. The Individual Representing the Universal 31
 - B. The Universal Made Available to the Individual..... 32
 - C. The Transition from Economics to the State 34
- Conclusion 35

Section II Hegel and Political Economy	37
3. The Ethical Function of the Economy	39
I. Hegel’s Concept of Freedom	40
II. Hegel’s Arguments in Favor of a Free Market	49
III. The Proper Relation between State and Free Market	63
Conclusion	69
4. The Economic Order: A Human, Not a Natural Institution	71
I. Adam Smith’s Ontology of the Economy	71
II. The Function of Property	72
III. The Neo-Liberal Economic Philosophy	76
IV. Philosophical Significance of the Neo-Liberal Movement	78
V. The Free Market as a Subsidiary or as an Absolute Value	80
VI. Beyond Internal Restrictions of the Free Market	83
VII. Freedom and the Free Market	85
Conclusion	88
Section III Tightening the Argument A Philosophical Dialogue with Economists	89
5. The Concept of “Merit Good” and the History of Economic Thought	91
I. The Problem	91
II. Justification of the Term “Merit Good”	98
III. Justification of the Different Kinds of Merit Goods	100
Conclusion	106

6. Objecting to a Libertarian Attack on Governmental Functions in the Economy: The Concept of “Public Good”	113
I. The Thesis in a Nutshell.....	114
II. Problems with the Concept.....	116
A. Objections from the Outside. Malkin and Wildavsky: The Concept “Public Good” Has No Epistemological Validity	116
B. Mistakes Made by Insiders: The Concept of Public Good Is an Ideal Concept as Are the Concepts of Private and Merit Good.....	119
III. In Search of a Definition.....	126
A. An Enumeration of the Characteristics Used to Classify an Economic Activity or an Economic Good as a Public Good.....	126
B. Reduction of the Many Characteristics to a Few Crucial Ones	130
IV. Implementation Problems	135
A. Samuelson: The Non-Rivalness in Consumption	135
B. Olson: Impossibility of Exclusion	141
Conclusions.....	144
Part II Applications	147
Section I Reflections on the Political Economy in the US	149
7. Structural Deficiencies in the American System.....	151
I. After Nozick and Rawls	151
II. Justice. Concern for the Common Good: The U.S. System and “Interest Group Liberalism” or “Laissez-Faire Pluralism”	153
III. Freedom. Hegel's Good Society	161
A. The Government.....	161
B. Free Market.....	167
IV. The Bishop's Pastoral: A Religiously Based Economic Ethic	174
Conclusion	178

8. Unjust Redistribution in the American System181

I. An Opportunity for Collective Gains181

 A. An Argument Based on Expected Dollar Gains 181

 B. An Argument Built Upon the Assumption of Intersubjective
 Utility Interdependence 184

II. The Opportunity for Collective Gain is a Public Good186

III. The Moral Argument190

IV. The Current Method of Subsidizing Children in the United States.....191

Conclusion194

Section II

Challenges in Transforming Command Economies197

9. The Role of Religion and Civil Society in a Transformed Command
Economy199

I. A Hidden Challenge in the Transition to the Free Market199

II. Arguments in Favor of the Free Market201

 A. Primary Argument201

 B. Secondary Arguments204

III. The Social Question and the Limits of the Free Market.....207

IV. To Which Institutions Should One Turn in Addressing the Social Question and Other Problems Arising from a Free Market?.....209

 A. The Redistributive Aspect of the Social Question.....209

 B. The Efficiency Aspect of the Social Question.....211

 C. Putting the Arguments Together.....219

Conclusion220

Section III Philosophy of Economics and Catholic Social Thought	221
10. Overlapping Ideas: Catholic Social Thought and Recent Nobel Laureates in Economics.....	223
I. Multiple Authorities in Economics	223
A. The Authority of Economic Theory	223
B. Religious Authority and Economics	234
II. Overlapping Authority	237
A. Beyond the Bator Model: More Moral Options in Economic Reasoning	237
B. Religious Documents Use (Submit to) Economic Reasoning	239
III. Economists and Catholic Social Thought.....	241
A. Buchanan and the Moral Idea of Fairness in Starting Positions	241
B. Stiglitz: Criticizing Economic Theory in the Name of both Economic and Moral Goals	243
Conclusion	245
 Conclusion	 247
 References.....	 257
 Indices	 273
Proper Names	273
Subjects	277