Table of Figures	XV
List of Abbreviations	XVII
1. Introduction	1
1.1 Motivation and objective	1
1.2 Procedure and structure	3
1.3 Central definitions	5
1.3.1. Strategy	5
1.3.2. Competitive strategy	8
1.3.3. Dynamic competitive strategy	14
2. Derivation of research objective	18
2.1. Review of empirical research on dynamic competitive strategy	18
2.1.1. Literature identification	19
2.1.2. Review framework	21
2.1.3. Literature review	26
2.1.4. Discussion and overall evaluation of research	40
2.2. Derivation of research objective	42
2.2.1. Research gaps	42
2.2.2. Scope of research objective	45
3. Theoretical frame of reference: path characteristics and performance implications of dynamic competitive strategy	48
3.1. Organizational sources of competitive advantage	48
3.1.1. Competitive strategy perspective	48
3.1.2. Resource-based perspective	49
3.1.3. Dynamic capability perspective	51
3.1.4. The complementarity between perspectives	51
3.2. Objects and tasks of dynamic competitive strategy	52
3.2.1. Environmental analysis	54
3.2.2. Strategy formulation	61
3.2.3. Strategy implementation	62

3.3. Organizational consequences of strategic change	66
3.4. Limitations on coping with strategic change	71
3.4.1. Structure and characteristics of organizational routines	71
3.4.2. Limited managerial capacity	73
3.5. Hypotheses	76
3.5.1. Firm-level path characteristics of dynamic competitive strategy	76
3.5.2. Outsourcing as an example of dynamic competitive strategy at the functional level	82
3.5.3. Functional-level path characteristics of dynamic competitive strategy	84
3.5.3. Summary of hypotheses	90
4. Empirical test: path characteristics and performance implications of dynamic competitive strategy	93
4.1. Data and sample	93
4.2. Measurement and variable operationalization	95
4.2.1. Independent variables at the firm level	95
4.2.2. Independent variables at the functional level	97
4.2.3. Dependent variables	98
4.2.4. Control variables	99
4.3. General methodological issues in analyzing longitudinal panel data	103
4.3.1 Standard estimation models for longitudinal panel data	103
4.3.2. Dynamic panel data models	109
4.4. Explorative analysis of path characteristics of dynamic competitive strategy	115
4.4.1. Methods	116
4.4.2. Results	117
4.5. Empirical test of firm-level hypotheses	130
4.5.1. Methods	130
4.5.2. Results	131
4.5.3. Robustness of results	138

4.6. Empirical test of functional-level hypotheses	138
4.6.1. Methods	138
4.6.2. Results	139
4.6.3. Robustness of results	144
4.7. Summary and discussion	144
4.7.1. Path characteristics and their influence on firm performance	145
4.7.2. Path characteristics and their influence on firm development	149
4.7.3. Limitations of the empirical study	151
5. Conclusion and outlook	153
5.1. Summary	153
5.2. Implications for future research	156
5.3. Managerial implications	157
